OUR CIRCULATION.
We mean to keep the following paragraph standing for the benefit of all whom it may concern:
ADVERTISING. We would commend the following to the attention of the advertising community.
The "Wilmington Journal" circulates upwards of 12 thousand copies weekly. Its circulation in the town of Wilmington is as large as that of any other paper published in the place. We would further state that the circulation in the counties which trade to this place is vastly in excess of that of any other paper published in North Carolina, and that the list is daily increasing.
We say, therefore, without the least of contradiction, that it is the best vehicle for advertising which the people of Wilmington can select. One other observation
we think that although a large majority of the readers of the "Journal" are Democrats, still occasionally
do a little trading, as well as the readers of the other papers. We have written the above merely for the information of those who are most deeply interested—business men of all professions and all political credentials who want customers.

THE JOURNAL.
We take from the KITCHENBOILER for May, a poem by J. A. SWAN, which seems to us to possess much sweetness and pathos.
She lay as in dreamy rest,
Her hands meek-folded on her breast;
Her lips which knew no word of guile,
Her parted with a beaming smile.
I could not make her dead.
A pale rose blossomed her raven hair,
As if it loved to glisten there;
Then when she looked at me, and smiled,
Twined with the lilies of her neck;
I could not make her dead.
The birds sang sweetly in their play,
Beneath the casement where she lay;
And then I knew she was not dead,
For everything so life-like seemed;
I could not make her dead.
The sun sank golden in the west,
And left his last beam on her breast;
And sweetly there it quivering lay,
And shook her red like the heart's quick play;
I saw she was not dead.
He tried to fight me with his speech,
His solemn words, that cunning flow;
That the tide of life had ceased to flow;
In vain, I knew it was not so;
I knew she was not dead.
Like two twin flowers upon one stem
We grew, and loved, and bloomed like them;
'Twas not in Nature, then, that one Should fade, the other still live on;
How could my love be dead?
They told me of a cold dark grave,
And sighing leaves that o'er it wave;
Of the muffled word would be the guest
Of her I loved, and loved her best;
I dared not think her dead.
But when I pressed her sweet lips t'wain,
And felt no kiss pressed back again;
And in her eye no tears could see,
When mine were flowing merrily,
I knew her spirit fled.

A SEASONABLE RECIPE—DELICIOUS APPLE
PUDDING.—Very convenient, as it may be made several hours before it is baked, or when a nice addition is wanted to the usual fare. Pare and chop fine, half a dozen or more, according to their size,
of the best cooking apples—grease a pudding dish,
cover the bottom and sides half an inch thick with baked bread, and very small lumps of butter, then put on a layer apples, with sugar and nutmeg,
and repeat the layer, which must be of bread and butter, pour over the whole a tea cup of cold water. Put it in the oven as soon as the dinner is served, and bake it twenty-five or thirty minutes.
It may be baked the day before it is wanted—when it must be heated thoroughly, turned into a shallow dish, and sprinkled with powdered sugar. It requires no sauce.—American Agriculturalist.
We had the pleasure, a few days since, of conversing with Lieut. Hancock, late of Capt. Henry's (Rockingham) Company, who left said company on the 16th and Monterey the 24th July. He resigned his commission on account of continued ill health, having been advised by Physicians to do so.
He confirms the accounts we have had of the ill health of the North Carolina Regiment, but thinks the sickness was abating when he left.
Lieut. Hancock, who is a democrat, speaks in the highest terms of Gen. Taylor. He says he is believed by the whole Army, and that in his opinion, he is not a whig.—[Ral. Stand.]
A New York paper says, that there is a lady in a neighboring town so awful fat, that the farmers
graze their cart wheels with her shadow.
If you desire to have a good reputation in the world you live in, always pay the Printer!
